It has been 2 years since 22-year-old Ms Dhu died in police custody. Ms Dhu was not 'faking it' as some custodial and medical staff presumed; she was in agonizing pain. As a victim of domestic violence, Ms Dhu was also subject to the weaponry of institutional state violence; effectively incarcerated by those who should have been protecting her. For 2 years, Ms Dhu's family have been searching for answers and searching for justice, however both are yet to be found. Please join us to commemorate Ms Dhu's life and death and to call for immediate action to prevent more deaths in custody.
